AORMIN SYDNEY:
William Wright, Esq., Drummoyne, Hunter's Hill.
TEMPORANY OFFICES:
J. J. Wright and Co., 69, New Pitt-street, Sydney.
This company is formed to work one of the largest and most valuable pieces of land at the Thumes Gold-fields, Auckland, New Zealend. The Directors being much importuned of late by their Sydney friends for investments on their behalf, and confident that this Mine will be one of the best paying investments on the field, now offer to their friends and the public generally a portion of the above shares, and, as only a limited number can be disposed of in Sydney, would advise those wishing to invest in this Company to make application for shares without delay.
The Sydney Agent (W. Wright, Esq.) has full particulars, plane, ruise, engineer's report, copy of New Zealand Mining Act, as also latest information as to the working of surrounding claims, all of which can be seen by intending investors at the temporary office of the Company.
The property of the Company, as will be seen from annexed plan, consists of two leased blocks of auriferous ground, containing about thirty-two acres, situated on the Karska Hill, between the Hapes and Karska Creeks, Thames the lay of the country, and surface indications, it is the general opinion that a number of the other Aurifereus Reefs are running up the Karaka Hill, parallel with each other.

The position of the ground offer's poculiar advantages for working the eame, upon a plan not hitherto attempted on this goal-field, namely, by driving a main tunnel right through the hill, thus cutting all reefs as a level of 400 to 60 feet below the summit of the range; and as past experience on this field proves that the reefs increase in size and rishness as they are followed down, the advantage thus offered cannot be easily over-estimated; it will also give the additional advantage of working this large piece of ground from each side of the hill at the same time.

It is proposed, after proving the richness of the ground, to expend £5000 of the capital in the erection of machinery, this amount being the estimated cost of a baticary of 30 had of stampers, with sufficient steam power to drive an additional batiety of 30 stampers, if required. The battery, when not required for crushing the Company's own stone, dan be kept at work continually by the surrounding claims, at very remunerative rates.

Before the facilities presented in working the ground, it is confidently expected that within a very short time from the commencement of operations the work will be salf-supporting, and that the full amount of capital will not be required. Dividends, when declared, will be paid on all sabres alike, whether the same be contributing and only parity called up, or fully paid up shares.

The Proprietors and the Sydney Agent with the greatest confidence place this undertaking before the public as one of the most legituants and the Sydney Agent with the greatest confidence in the undertaking, have by the rules of the cipinal Proprietors, who, with a view of aboving their own confidence in the undertaking, have by the rules of the cipinal Proprietors, who, with a view of aboving their own confidence in the undertaking, have by the rules of the cipinal

TALLON'S ALBURY WINE.—These very superior wines, in hogsheads, quarteroasks, and cases, on SALE by STEWART, GARRICK, and CO.,
Agents for J. J. Fallon.

DURE AUSTRALIAN WINE The undersigned begs respectfully to inform his friends and the public generally that several of his WINES, from the Windermers and Luskintyre Vineyards, are NOW READY TO BR SUBMITTED FOR THEIS APPROVAL. While soliciting patronage, he assures them that, regardless of cost, for the last nine years, every possible care and attention have been bectowed, not only to their growth, the soil, the selection of the choicest and meet approved kinds (anywhere to be had), but in the cellars, in their manipulation by persons of undoubted skill up to the present moment. Therefore every confidence exists in the decision that will be swarded.

The vineyards are the largest in the colony held by one proprietor, containing 14 choice varieties: 69 acres in total extent—42 acres in fall bearing, and 27 acres in progression.

total extent—22 acres in run towaring, and 24 acres in pro-gression.

The supply is considerable. The callars contain over 25(c00 gallons, with a prospect of an addition annually of from 20,000 to 30,000 gallons, all kept pure, separate, and without the slightest dapress of adulteration; and it is con-fidently believed the quality can not be surpassed by any ther whemsher in the Hunter River district.

They also possess a nucle-needed desiderator. They are now efferred at a price which will ensure their extensive just coases by all classes who desire a pure, wholesome, and unintoxicating beverage.

LECTORATE OF ST. LEONARDS.

To the Knitch of the Ruening Mans.

Sin.—Will you kindly allow me the space necessary to optradict the exerciton or inuendo conveyed in Mr. Tunke's speech of vectoraby, which is in substance, that my support if Mr. Forster is governed by the expectation of obtaining favours or places for members of my family.

I wish it to be distinctly understood that I have never solicited from any Government the smallest favour for any relative. I have submitted with a patience truly amidolis to slander and insults from Mr. Tunks, hoping he would loarn better manners. In this I have been disappointed, and I fear he is really incorrigible.

As two or three of Mr. Tunks's sons are in Government employ, and review public money, it may fairly be asked whether they were appointed without the solicitation of parent, er others; or were they purely selected by the Government of the day on account of their superior fitness for the officer?

TO THE ELECTORS OF CANTERBURY. At the request of many influential electors, I am induced to ask your estifrages at the change election. I went no place, and I seek no patronage from any Minister.

I want to place, and I seek no paironage from any sintery.

I shall be truly and thoroughly an independent member, returned by year, and a representative of the constituency ithout distancies of class or reach.

On public measures, I hold the following opinions:—will support truce TRADE; I will oppose ad velocemuties; I will maintain the existing law on Public Education. But I am prepared to remerly any injustice resulting out the most of administrating it.

I wan known to most of the electors.

I have been a consistent Liberal.

I wan ostranger; I am a resident in the electorate, and look for your suffrages with confidence.

REE AND INDEPENDENT ELECTORS OF RICHMOND AND WINDSOR.

GENTLEMEN.—In consequence of many mis-statements having been circulated by designing persons, and in report of my public address, published in the Synnay Monnino Herald, I deem it expedient to lay before you through the mediums of the Press, the bases of my political principles, which I have more fully explained at my electron meetings.

I sam decidedly of epinion that the most important question before the public, and requiring the most urgent consideration of the Legislature, is our Figancial Policy. I say in favour of a Cautoma Tarifi, believing that taxes through this medium are less butthenseons and more equirable than any direct mode. I am in favour of the abolition of the advanced units. If the calebra of the abolition of the graph of the postage on newspapers, provided that this revenue can be dispensed with.

That purpose, the present Land Bill I consider requires amondment, PLEORY PENCING A PART OF THE IMPROVE-

MARR COMPULSORY PRACTION A PART OF THE IMPROVEMANY CLAUSE.

Istinggration, I consider, closely allied to our land system, are would first at many the continuous and application. I consider, closely allied to our land system, are working the interest on industrious population. Railway erregion I am opposed to antil our existing lines pay something the interest on the capital invested. If elected I wrill serve you in Parliam at as your political representative, not as your local delegate, and in representative, not as your local delegate, and in representative, not as your local delegate, and in representative, not as a favour bit as a right to you, as subscribers to the public revenue, and entitled to a fair shere of public money being spent in your electorate, and wrill take my seast in Parliament in independent member, not a partisen.

THE LACHLAN ELECTORATE

REQUISITION TO JAMES WATSON, Esq., SYNNEY.

SIE,—We the undersigned electors for the Lachlan District, residing in Young, Burrown, Gronfell, Marengo, Murrumburrab, and Wombal, feeing deeply the injection of selecting for our representative in Legislative Assemby a gentleman of judgment, spetiscre, and honesty, and believing that you possess these qualifications in an eminent degree, and knowing so that you feel a deep interest in the welfare of this secret, have much pleasure in requesting you to allow a survivit, have much pleasure in requesting you to allow a strict, have much pleasure in requesting you to allow that the secure your return.

We are, Sir, yours very sincerely, (Here follow the names of 617 electors).

(Here follow the names of bit electors).

To Alexander Mackey, Eeq. J. P.; John Palerson, Esq., J.P.; William R. Watt, Esq., J.P.; Charles Temple, Esq. J.P.; James Roberts, Esq., and the cher gentlemen signing the requisition.

GENTLIMEN,—I thank you for the very flattering requisition, signed by so many influential residents of the district, which you have presented to me. If you think I can be of any benefit to your district in the Legislative Assembly—a district in which I have resided for so many years, and in the prespersy of which I take such a warm interest—I am quite willing to pile any services at your disposal and to become a candidate for your large and important distincts.

ton of the at valorem duties, and the imposition of specific duties instead.

I am in favour of the Public Schools Act, which ought, in my opinion, to be administered in a spirit of liberal fairness and inspartiality as regards all porties. I shall be brepared at all times to give my aid towards preventing this Act being improperly made a means of oppressing or interfering in any way with the just rights of any denomination.

State-aid to religion by direct vote from the Consolidated revenue is ab lished. I should be glad if some portion of the proceeds of the Church and School lands ould, when these lands are finally disposed of, be devoted awards the payment of clergy men of the various denominations in the country districts.

I am in favour of the continuance of the existing Land Laws, under which so many thousands have obtained a masteads in the interior, but I should at all times hope to be the law so administered as not to press unduly and uncessarily upon the Crown tempts in the pastoral districts. I should, however, straight support any smedium of the Act whereby greater facilities would be given to the free selector to convert his present underivable tours inte a re-should.

The Gold-fields Laws, and particularly those relating to he lessing of suriferous lands, should in my opinion be p-edily altered, so as to give greater facilities than exist at givent for the development of our valuable mineral re-tures. I would give my worm support to the passing of in Act to establish Mining Boards, as in the colony of Victoria, and give ariters power to make laws for the usanagement of the Guld-fields.

Victoria, and give miners power to make make a languagement of the Gold-fields.

I would give my support to any measure introduced for the repeal of the postage on newspapers.

I have nothing to gain by entering Parliament; and, at your request place my services at your disposal, and my long residence, and the interest which I take in your district, may afford you some guarantee that, should you elect me. I will not betray the trust reposed in me.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

JAMES WATSON.

DETERNCHMENT. — The Civil Service support proper retrenchment, but when Members of Parliament declare in their places in the House that they will reduce salaries indiscrimitately and without inquiry, the syrangy of such blind injustice is so apparent that they usually meet the fate, when seeking re-election, met by Stewart, Driver, and Terry; a fate, it is hoped, also in store for Piddington and for Lucas.

FRANCIS LORD.

To the Editor of the Evening News.

Sir.—I priceive by a letter in your issue of yesterday, Thursday, signed "Francis Lord," that he asserts that "two or three of my seas are in Government employ," &c. This statement is not true, and, therefore, all that is sought to be established by it falls to the ground. I, however, have one sen in the Government screece, in the Telegraph Department, whit, after some months' probation, at a salary of, I believe, ten shiftings per month, received a formal appointment on the 12th November, 1863. I was elected a member of the Assembly, that headers my influence, as a member of the Assembly, had nothing whatever to do with my son's appointment, which had place some thirteen months previously. The tacts, as tasted by me, are on record, and are, or ought to be, in the case, solar of Mr. Lord in his public capacity. I now call to Mr. Lord to refract the slander perpersion against me by him, in the same public manner in which it has been made.

I am, &c., WILLIAM TUNKS.

All the above are beautifully illustrated and handsomely bund. that I should briefly advert to a low of the most pro-minent.

I am strangly in favour of a comprehensive and well-digested measure of Law Reform, and of the introduction into the Cabiget of a Minister of Juntion and Education, instead of a Secretary for Public Works.

I shall not countenance agitation for the renewal of Statu-sic to religion; but I shall do my best to have the proceeds of the Church and School Landa appropriated to the amp-port of ministees of religion in the poor and approach pullated districts of our remote interior.

I have no wish to disturb the general system of Education row cefall-fields in this colony, provised Denominational education for those who prefer it he not destroyed. With reference to this great question, I feel persuaded that as Notichal education is still in an experimental state, we should make a fatal mistake if we were rashly to stereotype a system.

As an adversale for the verice interest.

testion. I have a very atrong objection to ad valorem detries.

With regard to the public lands, to any system which will secure to the poor equally with the rich a permanent home, which will fester an independent yeomany, the most valuable body of men is every common wealth, as well as protect the industry of our sorely tried flockmasters, and which will invite immigration by holding out to settlers bringing, from all parts of the United Kingdean, small capital, combined with skilled labour, very groper fluorement to select Australia for their home, my certiful support shall be given. Surely, nothing but hamentable innovance of the elements of political examiny and the mental support and a present the rapid progress of a Scilish colonial community, possessing a country with large reacts of good land at present but partially occupied, with a soil and chunate adapted not only to wedgetowing, but to octon and corn, to sugar and the grape, to cid and tolence; in chert, to all oracles, fruits, and vegetables—with large mineral resources—where few getterine diseases prevail and where, as in the district of Quearbeyon, the atmosphere is dry and pure, and the water yielded by our mentian springs and streams is could and refreshing.

I have the homour to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

CHARLES CAMPBELL.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC GENERALLY AND THE RIGHT-ROUR CONFREENCE IN PARTICULAR.—Genelmens, I presume you are aware that for some time past the operative bakers of New South Wales have been agitants, for a reduction in their hours of labour, and as our operations commence at night, and frequently extend far into the next day, while in some instances they reach seventeen hours at a stretch on Friday nights, whilst numbers of our fellow works—ngo unemployed. Believing the refore that the system is at variance with the spirit and progress of the present age, and desiring to share in those intellectual benefits and social enjoyments which so bountfully exist in this country, and as the Short-Hour Conference, to which we owe the warmest gratifude, have kindly offered us every assistance in their power, we, on Saturday, the 4th of December, memorialised our employers to limit the hours of labour to 10 by night, and no operative to bake Sunday dinners, and we are huppy to say our efforts have not been is vain, as the principal and most respectable master-bakers at once accoded to our request.

But as there are yet a number of employers who still most respectable master-bakers at once acceded to our request.

But as there are yet a number of employers who still persist in recording to the nefarious practice, thereby placing the more humane of their brethren at a disadventage, we would therefore select the public and short-hour tradesmen to patronise say of those employers whose numes are subjoined as the most practical way of rendering us estatance, and we hope we have not appealed in vain.

TAYLOR BEOTHERS,

London,

The Cecca (or Ceca) of Maravilla is the true Theobroom of Linnaua. Cocca is indigenous to Bouth America, of which Maravilla is a favoured portion. Taylor, Brothera, having secured the exclusive supply of this quarivalled cocca, have, by the shifful application of their soluble principle and elaborate machinery, produced what is an undenlably the perfection of prepared cocca, that it has not only secured the preference of homotopaths and coccatrinhers generally, but many, who had hitherto net found any preparation to suit them, have, after one trial, adopted the Maravilla Cocca as their constant beverage for breakfast, funcheon, &c.

POWDER.

Recommended by the LANCET for making Digestive Brad. Patronised by the Army and Navy.

By its use, as the saccharine properties of the flour, which are distroyed by fermentation with yeast, are preserved, the brad is more nutritive, and a much larger quantity is obtained from the same weight of flour.

It is a well-known fact that bread made with yeast, if rain before it becomes stale, forments again in the stomach, reducing indipersion and numerous other complaints. Bread made with this powder does not do so, but, on the contrary, is one of the most effectual PREVENTIVES of Indipersion. The powder is equally valuable in making puddings and pastry, which it deprives of all their indigestible it perties, and if dripping or lard be used instead of butter, it removes all unpleasant taste.

Its utility at sea has been fully tested, both by the navy and merchant service, and expeditions in search of Sir John Franklin; it was used in the Crimos, and has also been supplied to the army in China.

starch. In my opinion its presence in bread will be ceededly beneficial, "&c., &c. ARTHUR HILL HASSALL, M.D., Analyst f: the LANCER, subtre of "Adulterations Detected," &c., says, "It is not in the least degree injurious. Is indispensable in making bread, pastry, and puddings, especially on bear ship."

ERNEST ELLIOTT, M.D., of her Msjesty's Dockyard, Fortsmouth, remarks: "I should like to bring it into general use at sea; it is the greatest boon, not only to the sick, but in the officers' messes."

CAPTAIN ALLEN YOUNG, of the Arctic yacht Fox, writes: "It keeps well and answers admirably."

writes: "It keeps well and answer admirably."

This powder is perfectly free from any deleterious substance, and intended by its inventor, Mr. George Borwick, of London, to replace the ordinary leavem or yeast used in baking. It has been known in English commerce for the last twenty years, and, during that time, has been in general use in the Mercantile and Royal Marine, in the colcules, and in bakehonese in town and country.

Very many experimental trials and analyses of the powder were made in England by well known professors, chemists, bakers, the Admiralty, the War Office, &c. This resulted in establishing its superior advantages, and it was forthwith adopted in the Army and Navy establishments, and in all country places where families has their own bread.

While it is of use to all classes for its wholesome properties, the economy of time, and the increased weight of bread it furnisher, it recommends itself especially to seamors, tolders, travellers, and families in isolated country places, who cannot, if they wished, procure yeast. It is very chesp, portable, of easy transport, and bears keeping well.

Ein,—When, in my letter to Mr. Marleny, which appeared in your columns of yesterday, I stated that considerable importance appeared to be attached by the present Government to my conduct with regard to the bill relating to the grazing rights of conditional purchasers, and that my remarks thereon had consequently been distorted, and the distortion extensively disseminated—it is very evident that I was not far wide of the mark. The alsority with which the head of that Government (Mr. Robertson) has rushed into the areas, not to contravens my statements, not to defend the course pursued by his colleagues and supporters, but meetly to identify himself with the question, and to carry out the makin he so habitually illustrates, "When you have no case, abuse the plaintiff," is abundant evidence that my paragraph was justified, and that the misrepresentation, and also its dissemination, was systematic and intentional.

est, opposes, or obstructed, or was in some farm or other netrumental in preventing the passing of the bill alleded to."

Now this paragraph furnishes conclusive evidence that it is simply impossible for Mr. Rubertson to place a question before his readers, or heavers, in a condider even ingenuous form. It shows plainly that, as we frequently meet with persons suffering from the disease of the brain known as kleptomanis,—so Mr. Robertson would unhappily appear to be suffering from an abnormal state of the mental faculties, which incapacitates him from making a statement with even ordinary occuracy. We have just read his version of the question at issue. If we turn to my letter of yesterday, it will be seen that my complaint was, that I had been charged with being a "machinator" that is, of plotting with an wrill design, formed with deliberation. I proceeded to shaw that no foundation whatever existed for such a charge, and I called upon the gentleman who made it to embrantiate it if it laid in his power to do so; or otherwise to withdraw it.

But (if any meaning can be expracted from the words of Mr. Robertson) we are now told that a mere difference of opinion upon the merits of any measure introduced by him and the sufficient of the merits of any measure introduced by him end of the meaning for an evil purpose," or "plotting with an evil design."

I need say no more—the question is now fairly before the public, and I can safely leave it to judge of its merita, and also of the manner in which it has been respectively handled.

The Sponen Morning Meralb.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1869.

THERE is a special interest in the speech o Mr. Wilson as indicating the land policy of the Ministry to which he belonged. We sup-pose that if the changes of political fortune should once more restore his colleagues and himself to the Cabinet, we shall have the measure which he held in his hand laid upor the table of the House. He has even in-timated, that should not the existing Govern-ment carry out a measure similar to it, he will himself move the Assembly to consider the bill he had prepared when Mr. ROBERTson took possession of his Office. We can hardly doubt that the explanation he has given of his views, and the purport of the measure he has framed, will excite considerable interest and obtain the concurrence of many of those who are conditional purchasers. That his views will be popular may be inferred from the language in which he is prepared to address the people:—"Gentlemen, I have a great horror of Government debtors. I wish great horror of Government debtors. I wish you to be no longer Government debtors. I wish you to be holders in fee. I will reduce the price of land to 10s. an acre. Give me five shillings instead of fifteen which you owe, and I will give you your deeds." Future purchasers will be entitled at ten shillings to become the owners of a mach more considerable quantity of Crown lands. The most important proposition is to allow of leasing of pastoral runs in the first instance under easy conditions, with the view of converting them into freeholds.

In the opinion of Mr. Wilson, the price of land is too high, and the conditions imposed upon free selectors are often illusory. It has come to his knowledge that these conditions are evaded, and sometimes totally neglected. He has found, when proof has been demanded even of the residence of free selectors, that often they have not been on the land at ail. It has been found that by some process peculiar to themselves they regard a falsehood in such a case as anything but disgraceful. On the contrary, in one in the presence of a free selector, to make sure of the residentiary clause, although he had never been near the spot.

As Mr. Wilson has also a strong objection o deferred payments, one of the object of his measure is to lessen as much as pos-sible this practice, and to confine it to interests which are so much more valuable than the amount in question as to assure its discharge. He asserts that in the present discharge. He asserts that in the present state of the law men who are possessed of small capital, and who have sons to settle in life, are utterly unable to promote their establishment because of the preliminary cost of the land, or the uncertainty with which the present law surrounds the title of a leascholder. He anticipates that by rendering the acquisition rasy, and at the same time discouraging its monopoly, he will be able to stimulate its purchase and promote the settlement of the country. As we have entirely abandened the policy which formerly existed, it becomes now only a question of degree as to the inducements to be offered to favour the

Mr. Wilson points out the enormous amount of territory under the control of the present Government, and the apparent absurding the demanding a high rate for what is of itse demanding a high rate for what is of itself, for want of purchasers and occupiers, all but want of purchasers and occupiers, all but worthless. It is, however, impossible, by any reduction of price, to attract purchasers for auch an extent of territory: and the abandon-ment of any restriction of the sale, and suffering it to go by auction, would debase below the cost of the survey the value of all other lands. The instance quoted by Mr. Wilson of a farm of 1100 acres, with a large house in good repair, and many improvements, sold for a thousand pounds, would seem almost to discourage the idea that a reduction of price would cause a great ergerness of purchase. We-presume, however, that this must be taken as cause a great ergerness of purchase. We presume, however, that this must be taken as an exceptional instance rather than as leading fact. We have been accustomed hither to to or, in view of its susceptibility of use and its contiguity to roads and markets. Thus there is agricultural land at £1 of a not inferior or £3 a year. The situation makes the difference. When the colony sells special advantages which have been gathered found lands, it is entitled to some benefit from all the outlay which it has incurred. It is, in our opinion, desirable for all parties, as well as those who have already bought their land, that it should have something like a steady price, and that that value should not be subject to extraordinary depression. That this may be the case it is necessary that the price should never be unreasonably high or the price should never be unreasonably high or low, and that all those figures which are set down by the speculator as his possible gain on his purchase should be discarded by sober men, and especially by Government. What we really want is people. There was a time when it was possible to bring in immigrants by paying their passage, but that is past. We are now told that the attraction of land easily acquired will overcome the difficulty are now told that the attraction of land easily acquired will overcome the difficulty in drawing population, and that when once here their contributions to the revenue will amply compensate for any loss at the land sales, and any diminution of the fund which has been heretofore consecrated to immipration. Whether the easy acquisition of land will be really a boon to the people, will depend upon their habits and antecedents. It should not be forgotten that there are parts It should not be torgotten man may acquire of the world where any man may acquire the cannot from a large estate, but where he cannot finat estate sell sufficient to supply him the commonest conveniences of life. power of making a good use of land is, therefore, a grand element in the question, as studied by the statesman.

Whatever may be the defects of the Act known as Mr. ROBERTSON's, or the mischief it may have done in certain forms, it has, doubtless, increased the number of adoubtless, increased the number of owners, and settled a class of persons whose existence and improvement are of great importance.

Simultaneously with this easy to the country. Simultaneously with this easy acquisition of land the cultivation of sugar has opened a new industry, and if carefully and moderately pursued without too much ex-pense or too much refinement in the process, it may furnish a field of useful labour and secure a profitable return. In this case, however, land at a great distance from navigable rivers or from the markets would be of little

Still, it ought not to be forgotten that an over-stimulation of purchase will impoverish

Synway Monriso Henalin are requested to furnish their quarterly statements of accounts previous to the 20th prices. Land can be of no possible advantage where people have neither means to cultivate nor stock their holdings. When it is in nor stock their holdings. > THE attraction of a military spectacle generally irresistible, and its strength increases in proportion as the prople amongst whom it made is peace-busing and orderly. The Review and distribution of prizes to the successful competitors in the recent rifle matches will be sure to draw crowds of citizens within the precincts of the Domain to-day. In honour of our naval guests, the ceremony will be attended with greater circumstance than in former times, probably, and this expectation former times, probably, and this expectation will draw many who would not otherwise attend. Preparations are being made, we understand, to give such accommodation to ladies as may induce them to attend in large numbers, for they are a necessary element in such spectacles as these—being the very eye of the chivalrous picture,—since they give expression to it. No reader can be in doubt of the nature of the expression. Woman represents the hearth, the home, the expression to it. No reader can be in doubt of the nature of the expression. Woman represents the hearth, the home, the garden of domestic love, the centering point of all that is dear to man. Her weapons are not those of carnal warfare; her mission is not that of war, but of love; and when the ravening beast of war approaches to heak down her faces and unrout her reaches. break down her sences and uproot her garden, her protector, man, stands forth to prevent the spoliation, and retires contented with the respolisticn, and retires contented with the re-ward of her gratttude. Woman, therefore, fittingly symbotises on these occasions the part tentry enacted by her sex in life. And the smite with which the services of the prize-men will be rewarded to-day is merely symbolical of that which every ritheman would be seet with on his return from defending his country, and the sanctity of his home, in the smile of this wife, his sister, or his defenceless children. There is prime sense and exquisite hiness in the feeling of that chivatrous age which first associated fair woman with mailed warriors in the cenes as these.

It has been the custom now for some years tor the Governor and his Lady to be present on these occasions, and to distribute the prizes. We are glad to learn that his Exercises mends to give his countenance to the cere-mony, and that Lady Brimore will bestow her smile on the successful champions. The Government do well to impart as much dis-direction to this annual celebration of skilled ritle practice as they possibly can do. Our modes of performing patriotic service are various, and are such as are suited to our ability. There are few men who are so utterly lost in self as to be unable to perform any service for the common good, upon principle, and without recompense. The members of our Legislative Assembly will claim to do generously much patriotic work; so with a great many ministers of religion, who relinquish the world's prizes for the sake of showing to the votaties of pleasure that there is remething better worth getting than the wealth which perishes in the usage. There are multitudes of men and women who perform honorary service of all sorts, from the highest motives, as secretaries of secieties for the spread of learning, the promotion of morality, and the relief of destitution. Laudable citizens are there, too, who in simple response to the call of duty discharge, with unsenish punctuality, functions that are often far from agreeable. There are thus numerous ways of serving the public without shouldering a rifle. But this fact abates nothing from the merit of that large body of men who voluntarily merit of that large body of men who voluntarily give time and endure fatigue to make themselves proficient in the practice of arms, with the ulterior intention of employing their skill and exposing their lives in the resistance of hostile invasion. Their services cannot be too highly distinguished. It is good policy, if it be not an act of simple justice, to give a hearty and appreciative response, on behalf of the country, to men who will take such pains to equip and fit themselves for the public service. The tendency of all the honorary service. The tendency of all the honorary work alluded to is to reduce the pressure of texation upon the individual; and, certainly, when we come to estimate the volunteers' service by the sum we are saved from ex-pending upon a paid army—and it should be borne in mind that the charge upon the British revenue for every soldier amounts an-aually to £80—we shall understand what is gained by the community in this direction. A Government that swears by Retrenchment, should certainly go out of its way to foster so cheap and efficient a defensive arm as the Volunteer Service.

The Rifle Association presents special claims for our gratitude for to the strong inducement officed by this body to the members of the Volunteer Corps to excel with the rifie is due their especial efficiency. The simple drill required by the conditions of service would not suffice to make them first-class shots—and in these days of economy nothing short of the highest efficiency should be tolerated in public servants. What is the tolerated in public servants. What is the when thorough training is possible. The issue of a war now no longer depends on the sheer weight of muscle on each side or the number of guns, but on the sorts of guns and the skill with which they are used. The increasing dominance of mind is felt in war as well as in other forms of human operation. The Rifle Association is therefore operation. The Kine Association is increiore acquitting itself in a manner which should draw to it a freer measure of public support, seeing that it tends to give development to the higher powers of the soldier by means of these rifle matches, and thus economises

The contests before the Butts at Paddington were spirited and highly successful. The averages are slightly below what they were last year; but this is referable to the very unfavourable weather that prevailed very nearly throughout their duration, and to the considerable accession to the numbers of markemen of comparatively untrained men. In those matches which attest the highest-kill there is no felling-off. On the whole, the society is to be congratulated upon the meeting. We are glad to see the Cadet meeting. We are glad to see the Cadet element taking a promising stand amongst the ranks. It would be well if this branch of the service were increased. School boys are all better for such a drill as the Cadets through, and are no more likely to imbibe a taste for soldiering than others who are kept in ignorance of such matters until later in life, so far as our experience informs

Although very pleased to welcome amongs Although very pleased to welcome amongst us, on this occasion, the officers of the Flying Squadron, we cannot but feel that their presence is suggestive of such a change in the policy of the British Government towards her colonies as may soon leave us entirely dependent upon our own efforts for military and perhaps naval defence. Since the responsibility of defending ourselves will ultimately rest with ourselves, and we know not how soon, the wisdom of encouraging the toluntary service must be apparent. If we desire to be prepared for any consequences to ourselves that may arise from our connection with Great Britain, we shall do what we can to strengthen the hands of the Kiffe Association. It seems see tely fair that we should be taxed for disputes arising out of the misunderstanding of the mother country with other Powers; but of the mother country with other Powers; but whatever may be the policy of Britain in withdrawing her troops, and substituting the occasional visits of squadrons for stationary ships to protect our harbours, it seems very probable that before long we may be obliged to provide for our defences both by sea and land. This contingency imparts great importance to the business this day to be transacted in the Domain.

The Feince of Walins Offers of the School of Industry was in all reports great success. The house was cowded in every part, the dress dried filled with the clife of Sydney, and its craite bux ocquised by his Excellency the Overnor, his suite, and the senior officers of the squadron. The several learns of the programme was udmirably performed, considering how limited must have been the opposituation rehears as faced to the gentlemen amateriar who sustained the several characters. The entertainments byward with a casedy, "The Goose with the Golden Eggs." very creditably played by Mesars Jones and Wright of H.M.B. Scylls; Mesars. Bruce, Bignold, and Dick, of H.M.B. Liverpool, assisted by Miss Chiville. The laughable burlevque "Kentleworth, or ye Queene, ye Earle, and ye Maidenne, "was the second part of the programme, and went off with increased cleft. Mr. Menzica, who austained the part of Queen Elizabeth, proved himself the possessor of an amount of ability almost unicked for in an amateur, and his impersonation would have fone credit to many of the so-called stars. It created noars of laughter, repeated applanae, calle before the curtain, and a shower of bouquots which might have been flattering to one of the opposite sex, but cumbrous to a gentle man; Mr. Grissell, as Varney, was also very good; Mesara Mantague, Michaelson, Henderson, Minhimich, Stapleton, Bignold, and Lillingston also performed with credit. This was a special case from the same sittings. Prisoner was convicted for the burning of the Snawbird, &c., with intent fo defrand the Marine Institute Company. Several questions were raised at the trial, but two only were argued—first, whether it was sufficiently proved that the Snowbird was a British ship; accordity, whether there was sufficient proof of an intent to defrand the Marine Insurance Company.

Mr. Butler appeared for the Crown. The prisoner was not represented. In support of the conviction it was contended that the facts of the Snowbird being owned. By a British shiped, and having being loaded at and saile from a British past, were sufficient prima facic evidence of her being a British reasot. As to the second point, although there was no evidence of prisoner knowing anything shout the insurance, it was maintained that he must be presumed in law to have infected the industry of the sum of the sum

A telegraphic message was at orce seen to fixadwood to the Returning-ciffer for instructions, and instructions were recoised to give notice of adjournment till the following day, and the ballot bones to be left in charge of the police. The polling remained opened ill 4 p.m. in A to J draptiment. After 4 p.m. the conduct of the Beturning-ciffer was severely cumiented upon by Mr. Relly's scrutiner for his conduct in cleening the poil, and if that officer had not been but of the way he would have been severely handled. On Wednesday, at 9 a.m., the poll was reopened from K to Z, and this had scarcely been done when a mob of about 150 determined looking men, in shirt eleeves, carrying shillsiahs about two and a half feed long, came marching to the voting place four streat. The police, under the charge of Mr. Superintendent Orridge, mounted their horses; they let the mob pass on quietty; but the sight of the armed legal authority seemed in quiet the valour of the would-be orators, and after giving a few derisive chears they went back the road they had come. They beld a consultation how to act, whether to reals the authorities or not. The wisest men prevailed on its open resistance; but they spread themselves in knots of six to twelve, and posted themselves, as dilers, on the road leading to the polling booth, and when a passer by approached, if he was not one of their own class, he was ordered not to sivance nearer to the booth. Many were made to ge back; some resisted, and the commotion attracting the police, they were assisted to the poll. The police parrolled the approaches all day long, and in the vicinity of the Courthouse yard order was kept. At 10 a.m. orders came from Sydney to reopen also the A to J polling booth, and on this occasion Mr. Bunn, the returning-officer, presided. gallon is now asked for small lots; linseed, colza, and castor are unchanged. Kice sells slowly; the Isle of France, from Hongkong, brought about 200 tons Chinese. There is less firmness in the sugar market, the decline in value being most noticeable in good counters and crystals. The cargo ex Victory was offered on Monday for unreserved sale, to close a partnership account. Prices showed a decline on all qualities. The cargo ex Ziska is reported to have changed hands privately. The Flying Cloud, from Mauritius, is now due. Then the Croan; about 1800 acres purchase? conditionally, on which $b_er acre has been paid; and the leased partion of the run, accurely fanced in and subdivided in paddocks, about 300 acres of which are laid down in lucerns. The whole being equal to the finest pastoral lands in any of the Australian colonies, abundantly watered, and possessing fattenicolonies, abundantly manufactured (april 1997). The IMPROVEMENTS are all very extensive and complete, the buildings are principally of stone and brick, the buildings are principally of stone and brick, the buildings house alone having been eroted at a cost of file 600. The out-offices and inforvowments generally are all of the best description, but much too numerous to particularise in an edvertisement.

The STOCK consists of 40,000 SHEEP, more or less, and 600 PURE BRED CATTILE.

Of the former, 3000 are STUD SHEEP, and have lately been valued by competent judges as worth £5 PER HEAD ALL ROUND. The Cattle are pure-bred, and cannot be supersed in the colonies—cost being no consideration when free blood had to be introduced, as an instance of which, its say be mentioned, that £1200 WAS GIVEN POR TWO BULLS AND ONE COW.

Egg Ble WSTER and TREBEOK, in drawing the attention of Capitalists and investors to this magnificent instruction from the Welly Cholocest Polation of the DARLING DOWNS PROPER; and they selicit intending purchasers to inspect it, as no description can adequately convey to the mind the many administer which it possesses—embrusing a fine position, uniformly excellent quality of pastures, and acknowledged upericity of bat sheep and cattle to any the world.

ANT and SIMPSON have received instructions to sell by public auction, at their sale Recens, No. 278, George-street, at 11 o'clock, on MONDAY, 26th December.

The whole of the valuable property known as the PEBL Mills, PEEL near BATHURST, the property of william cummings, Esq. M.L.A., 9 miles from BATHURST,

THE FLOUR MILL and all the BUILDINGS are of really first-class construction, having been built under the supervision of the present proprietor; they are spacious, and well adapted for carrying on the milling business upon a very extensive scale, and the MACHINERY, PLANT, and WORKING GEAR is of the very best description. The engine is of about 20-heres power, and the whole is at the present time in THOROUGH WORKING ORDER.

This splendid property is in the very heart of the Western Districts, having around it the VERY BEST WHEAT PRODUCING PROPERTIES in the solony, besides the various large townships and the very numerous smilting population now accumulating on the sweetel extensive mining properties in the neighbourhood of Bathurst.

It is needless to remind speculators, millers, and threading purchasers that the very large production of wheat now taking place in the Western districts, coupled with the facilities afforded by the railway for transit, has created so large a consumption for the colonial-ground four that the imported article is scarcely salcable at the greent time in the Sydney market; and that such being the case, a capital opportunity now presents fixelf for making an investment that must result IN A HAND-SOME RETURN.
